Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I think this whole matter has been a witch hunt at tremendous taxpayer expense (how much has it cost???). And at tremendous inconvenience for the average computer user like me.

I've read the proposed settlement terms and I think it's lop sided in favor of the DOJ. But I guess if we are to get this thing solved and get on with our lives, letting the DOJ save face is the only way to proceed. What a way to run a government!
